The following typographical errors occurred in Vol. 1 #1 of the Journal:

The author of "A State Space Approach To Robotics" p. 17, was incorrectly listed as Daniel Slater. The author's correct name is Dan Slater. On page 19, the third line down should read: "This eliminates the logistic difficulty of measuring an antenna in the far field, with a test range length of several kilometers, where there is atmospheric and ground interference, and security problems." Dan's acknowledgments (p. 21) should read, "I am indebted to Charles Moore who wrote the original version of the Elicon control program in the late seventies."

On page 60, the authors of the second reference are H. A. Scott and W. G. Rippey.

The third line of the second paragraph on page 62 should start: "... compounds elute)." The comment in the first line of screen #43 (p. 68) should read: ( 1 X DATUM - 1 DATUM ).
